FRANCE MAY BE ASKED TO SHOW HER HAND

U. S. WANTS HER TO PUT REPARATIONS ALL ON THE TABLE

ON SUCCESS OR FAILURE OF THE AMERICAN MOVE HANGS SOLUTION

OF THE ECONOMIC CRISIS NOW CONFRONTING THE OLD WORLD

(By United Press)
Washington, Dec. 21—France may soon be asked by the United States to place all her reparations on the table.

With the success or failure of the American move looking toward a solution of the old world's economic crisis, virtually hanging on the attitude of France, this government is understood to be preparing to ask Premier Poincare for a definite statement as to the utmost concessions he is willing to make on reparations and kindred questions in order to relieve the situation.

This government realizes the Poincare government faces a difficult political situation because of the strong demand in France for the use of force in the hope of compelling Germany to pay the huge reparations figure which has been imposed upon her and the inquiry to the French government will be proposed in the most friendly manner.

This government has received the German proposal calling for a commission of experts, preferably Americans to revise the reparations down to the highest possible figure that Germany can pay. This proposal was revealed exclusively by the United Press, and caused unusual interest in official circles.

It is believed that any plan the United States agrees upon will be acceptable in the main to Great Britain, thus making it necessary to harmonize as much as possible the wide differences between France and Germany if a solution of the problem is to be reached.

Incidentally it provided Brazil an opportunity to see real North American football, played on a field built by American engineers, who are tearing down the Morro do Castello.

"Nevada" boxers also caused the manly art to increase tremendously in popularity in Brazil—where all the local sports have been talking boxing since the Carpentier-Dempsey battle.

TURKEY EXPECTS TREATY WITH U.S.

REGARDING RIGHTS OF AMERICA IN DARDANELLES AND BOSPHORUS

(By United Press)
London, Dec. 21—Turkey expects the United States to sign a private treaty with the Angora government regarding freedom of the Straits, according to an Exchange telegram dispatch from Lausanne today.

According to this correspondent Ambassador Child will proceed at the earliest possible moment to arrange a convention of the United States with the Kemalists. Child, he states, already has discussed the proposition with Ismet Pasha and covered the question of the rights of American ships in time of war and of peace to pass through the straits of the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus.

STATE GAINS IN HERRIN TRIAL TODAY

(By United Press)
Marion, Ill., Dec. 21—With a preponderance of the testimony in the Herrin massacre trial piling up against the five defendants the state was apparently in better position today than at any time since the proceedings were started.

Witness after witness has told his story of the massacres. Victims of the mob miraculously delivered from death, have returned to Marion and recited their experiences to the jury. Each of five accused men has been identified as a member of the mob. Not once has the state's testimony been shattered.

LITTLE FALLS HAS BANK FIRE

(By United Press)
Little Falls, Minn., Dec. 21—A fire last night did damage to the extent of several thousand dollars to the Commercial State bank here.

The fire was discovered at about 1 a. m. in the basement of the bank by occupants of the apartment on the second floor. They were awakened by smoke and fled to the streets after turning in an alarm. The bank is situated in the center of a business block.

ASK RELIEF FROM HARD COAL SHORTAGE

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Dec. 21—Appeals for relief from the anthracite coal shortage are being received by state officials from Minnesota communities.

"It is the poor people who will suffer first" said Ivan Bowen, state fuel administrator.

"As yet we have received nothing but promises of relief."

TAFT RECUPERATING FROM OPERATION

(By United Press)

HAS LAW RIGHT TO HANG A WOMAN SOON TO BECOME MOTHER?

MRS. EDITH THOMPSON FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER OF HUSBAND

JURY ALSO CONVICTS THE CO-DEFENDANT BYWATERS, HER LOVER

(By United Press)
London, Dec. 21—Mrs. Edith Thompson must hang for the murder of her husband, Percy Thompson, of which she was found jointly guilty with Frederick Bywaters, her lover. The Lord Chief Justice today dismissed appeals by Mrs. Thompson and Bywaters. They had previously been found guilty of murder and sentenced to death.

Thompson was stabbed to death October 4th. Appeal of the condemned woman who admitted frequent attempts to poison her husband probably will be carried to the secretary, her last hope for life. William C. Bridge-man, whose life by a coincidence was recently attempted through poison sent him in the mails, must now decide whether a woman about to become a mother can be hanged. Mrs. Thompson is understood to be in a delicate condition.

ELK OFFICIALS AT DULUTH SESSION

The first conference of exalted rulers and secretaries of the Elks' lodges in the northern jurisdiction of Minnesota was held Saturday in Duluth. I. K. Lewis, district deputy of the grand exalted ruler, was in charge of the arrangements and Duluth lodge No. 133, was host to the visitors.

James G. McFarland of Watertown, S. D., attended the conference and was the principal speaker. He represented J. Edgar Masters, grand exalted ruler.

Thomas B. Mills of Superior, past grand exalted ruler; John P. Murphy of Hibbing, president of the Minnesota State Elks' Association; Lanny Horney of Minneapolis, editor of the "Jolly Elk" and Ike Lederer of St. Paul, past president of the Minnesota State Elks' Association, also spoke.

William V. Turcotte, past exalted ruler of Brainerd lodge and R. G. Jenkins attended the session as delegates from Brainerd lodge. Sir Harry Lauder was the guest of honor at the twelve o'clock luncheon which was served the delegates and members of Duluth lodge. The Brainerd delegates had seats at the guests' table and happened to be right opposite Sir Harry.

After the luncheon he was called on for a few remarks and he responded with a stirring address on Americanism, a better citizenship and a true friendship between the nations of the world. He said it was better to build friendships than battleships.

Most of the delegates went to the matinee at the Lyceum theatre in the afternoon where Sir Harry was appearing. After he finished his last number of Scotch songs he came out and asked the audience if they were satisfied. Wave after wave of applause went over the house. When Lauder said, "You can tell there are lots of Scotchmen in the 'hoos' this afternoon, as they want all they can get for their money, that's all right. I am with you," said Lauder.

Girl Sentences Man She Wed to Serve 6 Months

Chicago, Dec. 21—Miss Rose Musi played the role of Portia, when Judge Morgan directed her to fix the punishment for Porter S. Houser, whom she had married in good faith, only to be deserted three days later.

"You can give him a year in the workhouse," said the judge. "Oh, that's too long—make it six months," she said, and began crying. "All right," said the court. "And I'll add a fine of $100 and costs for good measure."

CHRISTMAS EXERCISES

Sunday School of First Congregational Church to Hold Same on Friday Evening

The Christmas exercises of the Sunday school of the First Congregational church will be held on Friday evening at 7:45 o'clock.

The children have been well trained to take their parts in this Christmas program. This year the school has departed from the character of the program given during the past few years and the exercises will be in the nature of a real, old-fashioned Christmas service.

Old time Christmas carols will be sung by the children who will be dressed in white in keeping with the White Christmas which is emphasized in the program.

The gifts will be from the children to those who are in need and each child has been invited to bring some really useful gift in the nature of food or clothing. These gifts will be turned over to the Salvation army for distribution.

The officers of the school and those who have given of their time in training the children hope to see the parents and friends of the young people present at the Christmas exercises. All others who call the First Congregational church their church home are invited to attend.

All who come to these services will be assured of a real treat. The spirit of Christmas will breathe through all of the items of the splendid program. The children will bring their gifts to be devoted to the help of those in need. Christmas hymns and carols will stimulate the Christmas spirit, and the giving of gifts by the children will help them to appreciate the meaning of Christmas from the Child-Christ standpoint rather than from the Santa Claus side of the Christmas season.

CITY SCHOOLS HOLIDAY SEASON

Will Close Dec. 22 for the Christmas Vacation of Two Weeks, Re-opening January 8

WHERE TEACHERS WILL VISIT

Schools This Fall Have Had Daily Attendance of about 125 More Pupils Than Last Year

By W. C. COBB
(Superintendent of City Schools)

On Friday of this week, December 22nd, the city schools of Brainerd will close for the Christmas vacation of two weeks and will reopen on January 8th.

For the most part, the teachers who live out of the city will spend their vacations at their homes but a considerable number of Brainerd teachers reside in Brainerd and will doubtless spend their vacation in this city.

Twenty-six Brainerd teachers actually reside in Brainerd or the immediate vicinity, of whom twenty are graduates of our local high school.

The principals of the several schools will spend their vacations as follows: Miss Tornstrom at Excelsior, Miss Pinneo, Lincoln school, at Clearwater, Miss Williams, Lowell school, at Wilmar, Miss Barrelet, Whittier schools at Staples, and Miss Caniff, Harrison school, in Brainerd.

Although most of the Brainerd teachers are Minnesota people and graduates of Minnesota Normal schools or colleges, four or five teachers reside in Wisconsin and will spend their vacations at their homes in that state. The Misses Austin, Oldenburg, Baumgarten, and Smith make up the Wisconsin contingent. Miss Laipple, science teacher in the high school, will return to her home at Geneva, Iowa.

The following is a list of teachers whose residence is Brainerd or vicinity and most of whom are graduates of the local high school: Mrs. Smiley, Miss Stendal, Miss Brown, Miss Flaata, Miss Caughey, Miss Lowey, Miss Reis, Miss Robinson, Miss Dillan, Miss Canniff, Miss Murphy, Miss Early, Miss Benson, Miss Parker, Miss Irwin, Miss Poppenberg, Miss O'Brien, Miss Opsahl, Miss Molstad, Miss Leese, Miss Roderick, Mrs. Fleming, Mrs. Linneman, Mrs. McPherson, Miss Franklin.

The first four months of school which will be completed on Friday evening have been unusual in several important particulars. Since the first month of school practically no changes have occurred in the teaching force and very few substitutes have been necessary during this fall term. For the first time in years no vacancies, so far as we know at present, have occurred at Christmas time. New enrollments have been continuous since September and the number has about equalled the number of those removing from the city.

The schools this fall have had in daily attendance about 125 more pupils than they had last year and seven additional teachers have been employed to provide for this increase.

Perhaps the most outstanding educational feature of the present year locally has been the increased interest manifested by the various Parent-Teachers organizations of this city, of which there are seven at the present time in active operation and holding meeting at regular intervals. This interest has been centering upon the big educational problem in Brainerd, a new building to accommodate the rapidly growing high school, and although the somewhat depressed commercial and industrial conditions during the past four months have undoubtedly tended to put a damper on enthusiasm for any big financial project, yet in spite of all this, a strong feeling appears to be gaining ground in Brainerd that a new high school building must be provided in this city at a very early date. Four or five architects have already visited Brainerd for personal interviews with members of the Board of Education and prospective sites for a building, some four or five in number, have already been suggested for public consideration.

Considerable effort has been put forth by the children in the grades in all sections of the city in the sale of Christmas Seals to aid in the warfare against tuberculosis. The sale in all of the schools will exceed $160. The largest sale in any individual room was by the pupils in Miss Lowey's room at the Washington school total sale $14.75. The largest sale by ward school was by the Whittier pupils with a total amount of $58.45. The other schools, however, did as well as the Whittier in the matter of effort and considering industrial conditions.

The new Encyclopedia, Americana, in thirty beautiful volumes, recently ordered for the high school has just arrived. This new edition together with the new Britannica, provided by a senior class, places the high school in a better way for reference material than they have been for some years. New International dictionaries have also been added to the reference library of the high school.

Twenty-five new pupils have been enrolled in the schools during the month of December. This brings the total enrollment of the schools for the present year to date up to 2115.

In round numbers, actually belonging to the schools at the present time is very nearly 2000 and the number in average daily attendance is very close to 1925.

Some information gathered within the last few days has revealed the fact that there are 931 families having children in attendance in the Brainerd schools. On the average this gives about 2 1-4 pupils per family attending school, including both grades and high school.

The distribution of families having children in school by wards is as follows:

Whittier school, total enrollment 259, No. families 151.
Lowell school, total enrollment 498, No. families 248.
Harrison school, total enrollment 342, No. families 156.

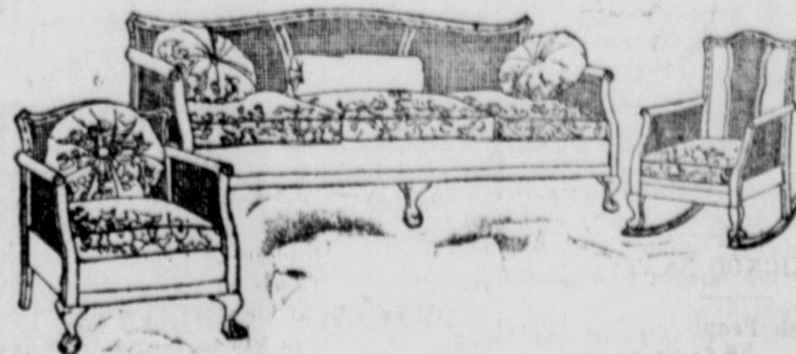

Lincoln school, total enrollment 302, No. families 180.

Riverside school, total enrollment 69, (resident) 31.
High school, total enrollment 416, (resident) 400.

PROGRESSIVE POLICIES DEMANDED

THERE are three parties in our social structure, two of which stand far apart and assault each other at every opportunity, and the third which stands between, is often the buffer, but which, after being buffeted, may save American civilization. Radicals and reactionaries attack each other, and the opposition of one to the other intensifies the bitterness and antagonism of the other, while the progressive stands between the two, serving as a mediator who may in time influence the two extremes to such an extent that hostilities will be forgotten in an endeavor to work out a constructive program.

Whatever dislike those who have come to think that everything in the present order is right may have for the radical who has come to believe that almost everything in the present order is wrong, nothing will be gained by either one or the other deliberately fighting the opposite party. Attitudes to life have vastly changed during the past decade and old sanctities have passed away. This is true not only of morals but of government and property. To deny the change, to deplore the change, to say that the change must not be will not in any way alter the fact. The change has already taken place and the new attitude to life has produced radicals on the one hand and reactionaries on the other; the reactionary attitude being born out of the conflict with radical tendencies.

When a condition exists it must be faced intelligently. An intelligent attitude will do more to adjust methods to meet the new conditions than a militaristic stand can accomplish. It is therefore clear that the hope of a stable government, functioning in such a way that the best in Americanism will be conserved, lies with the progressives who are looking to such steady improvements as will guarantee the stability of the social order.

Albert J. Beveridge, former senator from Indiana, has taken such a stand recently in an address delivered in Chicago. In stating his view of the position taken by the plain American he said:

If plain Americans are shocked and alarmed by radical proposals, they are also astounded and dismayed by reactionary ideas. In other words the common people of America—the plain people—are progressive. They stand between the radical and the reactionary and they deplore the tactics of both of these extreme elements in the social structure.

In standing as progressives they know that all of the best is not in the future. They want to go back to those things in our American history that promise better conditions today. They know that we have left many of the splendid values of the past in our march into the future and that we must return to a re-statement of these. At the same time they do not wish to imprison the ideas of today within the walls erected by traditions and precedents that have served their purpose well. With their eyes on the future and their hind-sight which reviews the past they would make steady progress along the road to the success of America's experiment in government by the people. Such is the attitude of the plain American.

COUNTY FARM BUREAU UNITS MEET

BRAINERD is awakening to the possibilities of the county of Crow Wing. When reports, such as that read by County Agent E. G. Roth, are followed by the people of this city they see how much is being accomplished by the farmers each year in developing the resources of this county. The county agent's report, given on Tuesday at the annual meeting of the Farm Bureau units of the county, presented such a fine record of service and its results that the farmers present gave a standing vote of thanks to the county agent.

It is altogether probable that Brainerd will reap more advantage from the development of the agricultural resources of the county than from any other source. Our local industries give their quota to the business life of Brainerd, the tourist trade is leaving an ever-increasing volume of business with our merchants, but neither of these holds the promise that is contained in the undeveloped lands of Crow Wing county.

Russell H. Conwell in his lecture "Acres of Diamonds" proves that people look for wealth to come from other places and by unexpected means, and that they laboriously attempt to win prosperity while it is right at their doors if they would only look for it. Land, marl, and lakes in Crow Wing county have within them the promise of prosperity for this county and the city of Brainerd, and every energy should be directed into those channels which will make possible the development of the resources that lie at our door. Other cities have won prosperity by backing the efforts of the agriculturalists, and Brainerd may do as they have done. In this we will be but followers and not pioneers. It is not an experiment; the experiment has been made by others and the results are guaranteed.

PRESIDENT HARDING FAVORS SOLDIERS BONUS

PRESIDENT HARDING's attitude on soldier bonus legislation has been marked by its consistency. In affirming that he is in favor of adjusted compensation for soldiers he is taking the same stand that he has consistently held in the past. Not the president but congress is to blame for the failure of bonus legislation in the attempts that have been made to put it through.

The position of the president is right. Grants must not be made unless appropriations are made to cover such grants. To vote a bonus without providing a means of payment is to play with legislation that means a great deal to the soldiers and a vast expense to the country.

The president took an honorable stand on this question, he has not side-stepped. When congress passes bonus legislation and votes a tax to pay the amount voted out of the exchequer, President Harding will place his signature on such legislation. The president has kept a brave front while congress has been shilly-shallying.

tabulation that the average number of pupils per family attending school does not show such a wide divergence by wards as many persons would be lead to conclude.

During the holiday vacation, the alumni of the Brainerd high school will get together for a re-union and a general social good time. In recent years, the alumni organization has been increasing at a rather rapid rate and, with the addition of this year's class, will be well on the way toward the one thousand mark.

The alumni from recent graduating classes, who are in college or normal school at the present time, number over one hundred members, of whom about fifty are attending school in the Twin Cities at the University, Hamline, Macalester, or St. Paul Law School. Eight are attending St. Olaf, three are attending Carleton, one St. Theresa, and three at a college in Rock Island. The normal schools represented by Brainerd alumni at present are: Mankato, Winona and St. Cloud, of which St. Cloud has the largest representation, about twenty-five.

Considering the size of our local high school, it is believed that the percentage of recent graduates continuing their education in higher institutional is very exceptional.

A voucher was received today for $49,000 state aid money. Forty thousand dollars was special state aid, and is much in excess to any ever received before.

SARAH BERNHARDT CONSENTS TO REST

Paris, Dec. 21.—Sarah Bernhardt, famous actress, today consented to take a rest which she previously claimed "for me it means death."

Physicians who announced that she had passed the crisis of her illness let it be known that after making many objections she has agreed to remain in bed for fifteen days or so.

The doctors ceased issuing bulletins. This was taken to mean that they consider her well on the road to recovery, although she remains in bed.

PROGRESSIVE POLICIES DEMANDED

THERE are three parties in our social structure, two of which stand far apart and assault each other at every opportunity, and the third which stands between, is often the buffer, but which, after being buffeted, may save American civilization. Radicals and reactionaries attack each other, and the opposition of one to the other intensifies the bitterness and antagonism of the other, while the progressive stands between the two, serving as a mediator who may in time influence the two extremes to such an extent that hostilities will be forgotten in an endeavor to work out a constructive program.

Whatever dislike those who have come to think that everything in the present order is right may have for the radical who has come to believe that almost everything in the present order is wrong, nothing will be gained by either one or the other deliberately fighting the opposite party. Attitudes to life have vastly changed during the past decade and old sanctities have passed away. This is true not only of morals but of government and property. To deny the change, to deplore the change, to say that the change must not be will not in any way alter the fact. The change has already taken place and the new attitude to life has produced radicals on the one hand and reactionaries on the other; the reactionary attitude being born out of the conflict with radical tendencies.

When a condition exists it must be faced intelligently. An intelligent attitude will do more to adjust methods to meet the new conditions than a militaristic stand can accomplish. It is therefore clear that the hope of a stable government, functioning in such a way that the best in Americanism will be conserved, lies with the progressives who are looking to such steady improvements as will guarantee the stability of the social order.

Albert J. Beveridge, former senator from Indiana, has taken such a stand recently in an address delivered in Chicago. In stating his view of the position taken by the plain American he said:

If plain Americans are shocked and alarmed by radical proposals, they are also astounded and dismayed by reactionary ideas. In other words the common people of America—the plain people—are progressive. They stand between the radical and the reactionary and they deplore the tactics of both of these extreme elements in the social structure.

In standing as progressives they know that all of the best is not in the future. They want to go back to those things in our American history that promise better conditions today. They know that we have left many of the splendid values of the past in our march into the future and that we must return to a re-statement of these. At the same time they do not wish to imprison the ideas of today within the walls erected by traditions and precedents that have served their purpose well. With their eyes on the future and their hind-sight which reviews the past they would make steady progress along the road to the success of America's experiment in government by the people. Such is the attitude of the plain American.

COUNTY FARM BUREAU UNITS MEET

BRAINERD is awakening to the possibilities of the county of Crow Wing. When reports, such as that read by County Agent E. G. Roth, are followed by the people of this city they see how much is being accomplished by the farmers each year in developing the resources of this county. The county agent's report, given on Tuesday at the annual meeting of the Farm Bureau units of the county, presented such a fine record of service and its results that the farmers present gave a standing vote of thanks to the county agent.

It is altogether probable that Brainerd will reap more advantage from the development of the agricultural resources of the county than from any other source. Our local industries give their quota to the business life of Brainerd, the tourist trade is leaving an ever-increasing volume of business with our merchants, but neither of these holds the promise that is contained in the undeveloped lands of Crow Wing county.

Russell H. Conwell in his lecture "Acres of Diamonds" proves that people look for wealth to come from other places and by unexpected means, and that they laboriously attempt to win prosperity while it is right at their doors if they would only look for it. Land, marl, and lakes in Crow Wing county have within them the promise of prosperity for this county and the city of Brainerd, and every energy should be directed into those channels which will make possible the development of the resources that lie at our door. Other cities have won prosperity by backing the efforts of the agriculturalists, and Brainerd may do as they have done. In this we will be but followers and not pioneers. It is not an experiment; the experiment has been made by others and the results are guaranteed.

PRESIDENT HARDING FAVORS SOLDIERS BONUS

PRESIDENT HARDING's attitude on soldier bonus legislation has been marked by its consistency. In affirming that he is in favor of adjusted compensation for soldiers he is taking the same stand that he has consistently held in the past. Not the president but congress is to blame for the failure of bonus legislation in the attempts that have been made to put it through.

The position of the president is right. Grants must not be made unless appropriations are made to cover such grants. To vote a bonus without providing a means of payment is to play with legislation that means a great deal to the soldiers and a vast expense to the country.

The president took an honorable stand on this question, he has not side-stepped. When congress passes bonus legislation and votes a tax to pay the amount voted out of the exchequer, President Harding will place his signature on such legislation. The president has kept a brave front while congress has been shilly-shallying.

tabulation that the average number of pupils per family attending school does not show such a wide divergence by wards as many persons would be lead to conclude.
During the holiday vacation, the alumni of the Brainerd high school will get together for a re-union and a general social good time. In recent years, the alumni organization has been increasing at a rather rapid rate and, with the addition of this year's class, will be well on the way toward the one thousand mark.
The alumni from recent graduating classes, who are in college or normal school at the present time, number over one hundred members, of whom about fifty are attending school in the Twin Cities at the University, Hamline, Macalester, or St. Paul Law School. Eight are attending St. Olaf, three are attending Carleton, one St. Theresa, and three at a college in Rock Island. The normal schools represented by Brainerd alumni at present are: Mankato, Winona and St. Cloud, of which St. Cloud has the largest representation, about twenty-five.
Considering the size of our local high school, it is believed that the percentage of recent graduates continuing their education in higher institutional is very exceptional.
A voucher was received today for $49,000 state aid money. Forty thousand dollars was special state aid, and is much in excess to any ever received before.

Innovation Marks Further Step in Progress of Brainerd's Oldest State Bank

The Citizens State Bank of Brainerd, in line with its progressive policies, has written personal holiday greeting letters to its depositors, and then goes a step further by including a very valuable Christmas gift in the form of an insurance policy.

This policy is unique, in that it offers protection to the depositor on every check he writes, using the Citizens State Bank's super-safety checks.

Under the terms of the policy the Hartford Accident and Indemnity Co. will protect the depositor against fraudulent alterations of super-safety checks up to the amount of one thousand dollars. It also protects the bank itself in a similar way on drafts that may be drawn by the institution.

This innovation is another step forward in this bank's program. Only a short time ago a new vault system was installed and a number of safety precautions added. Every possible care is used to safeguard the patrons, placing "The Oldest State Bank in Crow Wing county" in the front ranks of the financial institutions in this territory.

R. J. Tinkelpaugh, cashier, is going a step farther this coming year, and standardizing on a new form which will be used exclusively for check books, pass books and savings account books. A special design has been selected and will be used throughout the entire line, in keeping with the rapid strides forward this bank is making.

WONDERFUL LINE OF PARK PICTURES

Assembled for Brainerd's New Park
Clientele for the Next Two Weeks Program

MGR. IRWIN DESCRIBES SAME

"Kindred of the Dust", "Peacock Alley", "Skin Deep", "The Dictator" Etc., Coming

In a letter to the Dispatch and the New Park theatre management, A. W. Force of the Finkelstein & Ruben theatrical enterprises, described the attractions secured for the New Park theatre in Brainerd for the next two weeks. Manager Irwin is proud of the program secured.

"Kindred of the Dust", which is from Peter B. Kyne's famous story, which ran in the Saturday Evening Post, will undoubtedly hold your interest, as it is a story of the industry that was so famous around Brainerd some years ago.

On Christmas day and the day following, we show "Peacock Alley", which is one of the most wonderful pictures ever put on the screen, and it is certain to hold your interest.

On Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 27 and 28, we have Milton Sills and Florence Vidor in "Skin Deep", which picture is being shown at Brainerd ahead of Minneapolis, and this picture is certainly worthy of special mention.

On Friday, I have booked Wallace Reid in "The Dictator", which is one of Reid's best pictures.

On Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 30-31, "Manlaughter", the biggest and most wonderful picture that has ever been shown in Minneapolis, will be seen in Brainerd. This picture is certainly a masterpiece, and the producers have spared no expense in putting it before the public.

"Lorna Doone", which is booked for Monday and Tuesday, undoubtedly does not need any mention, as you are entirely familiar with the book, and the way it has been handled on the screen is wonderful.

I presume that you will recall "Springheart", the dog, which was featured in "The Silent Call." I have booked "Brawn of the North" for January 3-4, with this same dog taking the leading role.

On Friday, I have booked Lionel Barrymore in "The Face in the Fog", taken from Boston Blackie stories, and to climax these two weeks of wonderful pictures, we will show the people of Brainerd "Blood and Sand", with Rudolph Valentino at his best.

While Brainerd is busy with its holiday business, the committee in charge of the big skating rink, is busy preparing the site for this popular winter pastime, which goes hand in hand with the holiday festivities.

This big ring is located on South Tenth street at Norwood. The best route to take is by Norwood street. The rink is being flooded every day and it is expected that it will be in very good shape by Saturday evening or Sunday at the latest.

Work in the warming house is progressing rapidly. The building is entirely closed in, a large stove set in place. The building is 15 feet by 40 feet and is located at the Norwood street end of the rink. It is estimated that it will accommodate about 75 people at one time. At one end of the building has been arranged a check room for the convenience of the skaters.

Boyd Hamilton has been employed as caretaker, with police powers, and the best of order will be kept, both on the rink and in the warming house at all times. One of the rules which will be rigidly enforced is that no smoking will be allowed in this building.

Brainerd is to have two rinks this winter. A small one for the little folks only is situated on the east side

FANNING WITH ARRELL

RIVALRY HIGH IN NEW YORK BASEBALL

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Dec. 21.—With both New York ball clubs in their own parks next season there will be tremendous rivalry for the patronage of the Manhattan fans.

While nothing is yet known about the schedules, it is taken as a foregone conclusion that both the Yanks and the Giants will have some conflicting dates at home.

The desire for more Sunday dates caused the Giants to terminate the arrangement which gave the Yankees the use of the Polo grounds for half the season and when the Giants want more Sunday games, the schedule makers most likely will grant them, as one other club will profit also.

The same is true of the Yankees. New York, of course, is big enough to support two Sunday games, but one is bound to draw a little better than the other, if they succeed in developing a partisan following.

In Babe Ruth, the Yanks have the greatest drawing card in baseball and if the big fellow does what he promises to do this winter, he ought to hit them again next year.

In addition it would be no surprise to see Eddie Collins working around second base. The greatest of all second basemen would be a great gate attraction, as he is very popular in New York and it would give the Yanks a "million-dollar" infield to compare with the Giants. Erin Ward isn't the worst second baseman in the league and considering that he has time to come along while Collins is about through, the deal would not seem logical, were it not for the fact that Miller Huggins doesn't like Ward and Ward doesn't like to play under him.

There is also a strong possibility that the Yanks may have little Dicky Kerr to pitch for them in another year.

Splendid Picture Made From Prize Play

This story by Zona Gale, considered one of the most human documents of the past decade, and which won the prize as being the most meritorious play of the past season in New York, has reached the screen with wonderful fidelity—thanks to William De Mille. The champions of this book and play (and they are legion) cannot carp over this treatment of their favorite story. The director has demonstrated further that he is almost in a class by himself when it comes to visualizing the simple, human document. He has humanized the figures of the book so that they stand out like canons. It is one of the finest adaptations in the history of the photoplay. Showing at the Lyceum for the last time tonight.

Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions. Sold by druggists for over 40 Years. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

and inasmuch as the star wears a succession of really striking dress creations and appears all the time as her most beautiful self, then maybe the puzzle will be partially solved. Ralph Graves, who plays the leading male role in R. A. Walsh's production, "Kindred of the Dust," at New Park on Saturday and Sunday, released by First National is one of

Its Body Is as Sturdy as Its Chassis

Lasting satisfaction with a closed car depends not only upon the dependability of the chassis but upon the durability of the body.

In the Special Six Sedan, Studebaker offers an admirable co-ordination of these vital requirements.

Stop in at our showroom and see this Sedan. Stand off and get a three-quarter view of it. Note its striking beauty. Step inside and relax in the nine-inch seat cushions. Note the great roominess and the completeness of the equipment.

Take a ride behind its 50-horsepower motor. Try the wheel yourself. Put it to any test—every test. Try its acceleration, speed, power. Ask yourself if you ever handled a car that steers so easily—that responds so satisfactorily with just what you want, when you want it.

The body is a product of Studebaker skill and craftsmanship which have been developed through more than two generations of vehicle building. Highest grade of materials and workmanship have produced a body as beautiful as it is enduring.

This Sedan is a good investment because of the saving in the initial outlay and the moderate cost of maintenance. The price is possible because Studebaker builds three distinct models with only one manufacturing and marketing cost and because middlemen's profits are virtually eliminated.

The name Studebaker stands for stability of body as well as chassis.

AS the old year passes into history and men take stock of their achievements and of their weaknesses, there is stressed that spirit of service which is the soul of business.

It is the Christmas spirit materialized, the spirit of Kindness, Justice, Equity and Fair Dealing, the spirit which gives body to the Golden Rule.

The spirit of service is a principle which radiates naturally from the management and through every fibre and unit of the organization. Such a spirit is essential in a big business if the work it is designed to do be comprehensive in its scope.

It provides proper compensation for men and women who have grown old in the service.

It provides pleasant working conditions for employees.

It embraces a plan whereby employees may become partners in the business, insuring a comfortable feeling of independence, thereby supplanting worry with peace of mind.

It provides a channel through which the worker in the humblest position may bring his grievance, if he has one, to the attention of the management and be sure of consideration.

These four manifestations of the Standard Oil spirit of service reflect themselves directly in developing contented employees, who work with an enthusiasm impossible to those who labor under the lash.

The material benefits of this daily application of the Christmas spirit are mirrored to a superlative degree in the superior service which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) through its harmonious, happy, contented family of 27,000 employees is able to render to 30 million people in 10 Middle Western States.

It is this spirit of service animating the entire organization which has enabled the Directors to render so praiseworthy an accounting of their stewardship to the 26,768 stockholders, not one of whom owns as much as 10 per cent of the total.
